ON BOARD THE FLAGSHIP.

President Dole and Party Return Admiral Irwin's Call.

There was a large crowd at the boat landing and adjacent dock this morning when it was rumored that President Dole and Cabinet were to return the visit of Admiral Irwin, of the U. S. flag ship Philadelphia. President Dole, Ministers Damon and Smith, Col. J. H. Soper and Major G. C. Potter arrived in hacks, and entering a boat were rowed to the Philadelphia. Approaching the white cruiser the men on the U. S. gunboat manned her yards and a salute of twenty-one guns was fired by the Philadelphia, the Hawaiian flag being run up to the masthead. As the party were mounting the gangway the flagship band played the Hawaiian national anthem. The party spent fifteen minutes on the cruiser, after which they retired. ### PILE DRIVER IN DISTRESS.

Rowell's Pet Carsens in the Harbor and Hurts Himself.

The new piledriver, known as "Rowell's pet," which has been in use for the past few days driving new piles at the reconstruction of Brewer's wharf, capsized early yesterday evening. The engine was entirely submerged—in fact, it was out of sight, while the two hundred pound weight was loosened from the sockets and fell to the bottom of the bay. Mr. Rowell, Superintendent of Public Works, was notified, but as it was dark nothing was done until this morning.

It is the opinion of city front men that the piledriver was too heavy, and that the mishap which befell her was only to be expected. Why it didn't capsize before while in operation is wonder. Mr. Rowell expects to have the piledriver in position this afternoon. Two piles have been driven by the machine.

THE MATABELE WAR.

The following items are condensed from Capetown despatches of Oct. 27 to 29:

South African papers are publishing statements to the effect that 500 white men, well equipped, are aiding the Matabeles. They are said to have chiefly been drawn from Johannesburg, Lobengula having promised farms to all who help him.

A section of the Cape press stigmatizes H. Loch's meddling with the Company as criminal.

President Kruger considers the Matabeles more powerful than is generally believed, and that the Company's estimate of their strength is mistaken.

Sir Fred Carrington, formerly commandant of the native forces in Zululand, will shortly leave England for Matabeleland to confer with Sir Henry Loch. Sir Frederick goes out at the latter's request, and it is said will command the Bechuanaland police.

Two of King Lobengula's envoys were killed by British guards, Major Adams reporting that they were mistaken for spies. It is believed the news of the killing of the envoys will have an unpleasant effect in England.

Major Grey has left Mafeking for Tati, with 300 Imperial troops. It is reported, Nov. 1, that King Lobengula is fleeing in a north-west direction. Half of his Khama's regiment have been killed, and his power broken.

The latest from Capetown, dated Nov. 2, is of a crushing and decisive defeat of the Matabeles.

They were mowed down in large numbers by an unceasing fire of breech-loaders, but nothing daunted, renewed the attack on Saturday, when the column had reached within ten miles of Bulawayo.

The Maxim guns made terrible havoc in the crowded masses of men, and after a severe struggle the Matabeles showed signs of giving way under a continued shower of bullets. Seizing this opportunity, Forbes ordered a general charge, and the dispirited natives gave way before the shock, and were completely routed.

The enemy retreated to Bulawayo, but, without giving them time to rally, the combined columns attacked and captured the King's kraal.

Forbes' loss was only slight, but no less than 3000 Matabeles were left dead on the field.

Many kraals were burnt, and nothing further was done till the battles on Friday and Saturday, on the 31st, when 5600 Matabeles made a final effort to storm the Company's laager. The natives swept the Company's pickets backward, till they encountered the combined fire of the Maxim guns and repeating rifles.

The enemy found it impossible to withstand the fusillade, and the leap broke and fled to the bush, leaving behind them 500 killed and wounded.

The action took place 35 miles from Bulawayo, and broken ground seriously hampered the company's forces in following up the Matabeles.

The company's loss was one killed and seven wounded.

Business dead? Not much! Leastwise it is not so with the California Feed Company. We have made a business for ourselves, which has steadily grown through all the hard times other people are complaining about. We have just secured from Mr. J. F. Colburn his old stand, corner Queen and Nuuanu streets, and taken possession of those large and convenient premises.

We had to do so, because our old place at Lelele is too small for our fast-increasing business. In a few days the bark "Mauna Ala" will be here again with her fourth full cargo of Hay and Grain, bought by our Mr. J. N. Wright who will arrive on that vessel. We prefer to select our merchandise ourselves rather than have others do it, which means that we get better goods at a less price.

We thank our many friends for their liberal patronage for the past three years, and hope by strict attention to a business we thoroughly understand to merit the patronage of as many more.

WHY LUCOL

IS THE BEST PAINT OIL.

Dries perfectly solid inside of twenty hours.

Forms a durable and elastic, not a brittle coating.

Retains its gloss longer than any other oil.

Resists the action of acids and alkalis better than any other oil.

Flows freely from the brush without running and spreads well.

With the addition of Litharge, yields a hard surface, suitable for floors, steps, etc.

Mixes readily with pigments ground in oil in paste form.

Brings out the real shades of the colors and keeps them unaltered.

Is a solvent for the most delicate of the new coal tar colors.

Added to varnish greatly improves the working of the varnish.

Does not darken white lead or any delicate colors.

Has greater body than any other oil.

Requires one-third less pigment than any other oil.

Can be added to linseed oil and it will greatly improve the linseed.

Can be thinned with turpentine.

By actual tests, has outlasted the best linseed oil.

Therefore, is the best paint oil ever manufactured.

Direction for Use.

Use Lucol in every respect in the same manner as you would linseed oil, with the single exception that you may add fully one-quarter more Lucol to the same quantity of pigment than you would of linseed.

In using metallic, Venetian red, the ochres, and other dry pigments, it is advisable to mix up the paint at least one day before it is to be used, then add a third more Lucol, and the paint will be found to cover well and have a good gloss.

NEVER USE JAPANS.

Where hard surfaces such as floors, steps, etc., are required use litharge only, never use Japans.

LUCOL MIXES WITH VARNISHES

and assists their working and improves their appearance BUT THEY SHOULD BE USED SAME DAY THEY ARE MIXED, otherwise the gum of the varnish may be precipitated or the mixture curdled.

The addition of from 1/4 to 1/2 of Lucol to varnishes does not reduce their lustre nor retard their hardening and drying and it prevents their cracking.
